the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible.
- Older people should be able to participate in the community and in decisions about their lives.
- Older people should be able to access the services and support they need.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's services. These include:

- Improving the quality of life of older people.
- Reducing the number of older people who are in care homes.
- Increasing the number of older people who are employed or volunteering.

The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK. It provides a clear vision for the future of older people's services and sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's services.

REACHING TOWARD

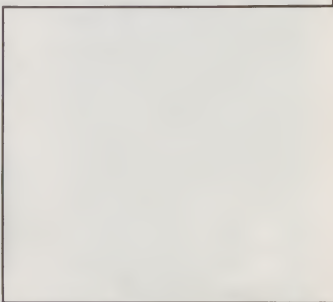

The school year of 1983-84 will leave behind a lifetime of memories. The year was compiled of traditions marked with sentiment, friendship, qualities of leadership, and learning about ourselves and the world around us. This knowledge we acquire will be well used as time and our future fades away to become our past. Our goals can be reached only if we continue to grasp for more knowledge and experience both success and failure. These accomplishments will be achieved if we continue to strive for what we believe is best for us. During high school we govern ourselves and follow chosen leaders both young and old, pointing us to the future. Tomorrow, the traditions we set will remain for those who follow. Others will take up the lead as we move onward and "Reach Toward the Future."

T. Boswell displays interest while doing her "Read" magazine assignment for Ms. Wozniak.

Expressing his point of view, P. Oprisko shows that he's got what it takes in presenting an oral.

English is no laughing matter for S. Otic.

Senior J. Puente uses a Reader's Guide to help him with his term paper.

THE LANGUAGE AND THE PEOPLE

Marking the stress on some words is a puzzled C. Buranowsky.

D. Miles skillfully diagrams a very difficult sentence.

Speaking, listening, reading, and writing are all in a day's work in an English class at Whiting. Without these skills one can not get very far in life.

Freshman year students learn the basic principles of grammar; nouns, verbs, and adjectives from Mrs. Hanis. The following year Mrs. DePeugh develops speaking skills by way of oral presentations such as book reviews and pantomimes. Literature is most heavily emphasized junior year with Miss Wozniak. This involves reading and learning about American authors. Senior year, Mr. Ulrich helps students understand some of the many complex pieces of literature such as Shakespeare. Most of these students are required to accomplish the task of writing a term paper. Also seniors learn rhetoric punctuation and capitalization. Most importantly, students learn the language and the people.

G. Harding looks elsewhere for help as Miss Bamiagis explains his assignment.

LEARNING THE PAST, PRESENT, AND

K. Kender and S. Wright listen attentively to a guest speaker in careers class.

Did you know that this year you sat through 175 hours of Social Studies or History classes? And you'll have to sit through over 700 hours of Social Studies classes by the time you graduate!

For a freshman, this probably seems impossible. But then again, if you are a senior, you'll have already taken: Careers, Civics, World History, U.S. History, Government, Economics and maybe even Sociology. And if you stayed awake and paid attention to all the film strips, movies, and guest speakers, then at the end of the year you should be an expert on everything from Christopher Columbus to today's economic news.

Planning a map for her economics paper is E. Rodriguez.

T. Butler takes a break from typing her government assignment to smile for the camera.

FUTURE THROUGH SOCIAL STUDIES

S. Jancho shows C. Anderson how to find a good book for their social studies report.

Searching through a career guide and deciding their future are S. Wood and E. Perez

The library is an important source for D. Renda's report.

Scanning the newspaper and looking for a minute for economics class are B. Bailey and J. Flores.

ELECTRIFYING EXPERIENCES

Many WHS students find the science classes enjoyable. Working in the labs gives students a break from the everyday classroom routine.

Biology students concentrate on plant life and dissecting. Chemistry students are faced with analyzing and naming their unknown compounds. Physics students learn about the earth and atmosphere.

Science classes provide the students with a challenge and also prepare them for their college courses.

D. Raycroft tries to teach K.G. Kompier to use a scale.

With a steady hand, P. Stincic removes her crucible from the oven.

Performing the last step, S. and H. Ulloa hope they have found their unknown.

M. Johnson squeezes some brains out of T. Gazda.

As she fills the bottle, J. Hart poses for a quick picture.

Fire in the chem lab!

Trying not to get sick. M. Tobias and K. Williams dissect their earthworms.

J. Dobrowolski points out the parts of the tree to N. Mazur.

MATH CLASSES STIMULATE THE MIND

M. Beno gets "radical" in Algebra.

Basic mathematical courses through algebra and trigonometry to drafting and computer programming are offered every year to each student at W.H.S. Everyone must choose from these courses to complete the 5 semester requirements for math.

This year Mr. Camperman, a student teacher from Indiana University, is teaching in Mr. Allen's classes.

B. Taylor "instructs" J. Augustyn at the computer.

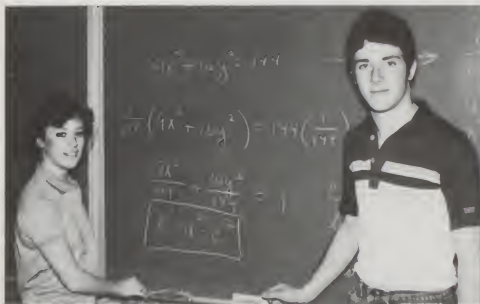

C. Sarvanidis uses a reference book to solve a problem in Senior Math.

Solving world Problems at the Board

Mr. Camperman advises E. Fritz in Geometry.

D. Close and M. Mazur discuss the formula of an ellipse with the class.

S. Haviley gets help from Mr. Poropat in Blue Print Reading.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

This group of Spanish II students model their sombreros as they learn about Mexico.

M. Opachan and K. Hansen display some posters depicting Spanish cultures.

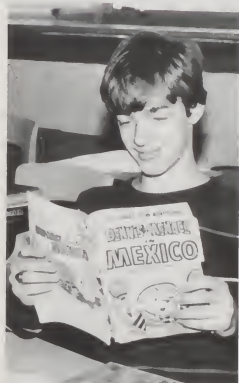

Reading the brochure, M. Tobias learns about some of the fun one can have in Munich.

W. Fehrman and D. Raycroft wonder if this "hex sign" will keep bad spirits away from Mr. Ulrich's classroom.

CAN BE FUN

Having finally learned how to use the lab, B. Briggs becomes familiar with the Spanish dialect.

Although we usually read them for amusement, S. Harbin shows that comic books can be educational.

W. Simmons and G. Cabrera look at a poster that shows what "local life" is like in Burgenland.

For some students a foreign language may appear to be a difficult goal to accomplish. The truth of the matter is that a foreign language is an enjoyable challenge. Of course, there are quite a few verbs to learn, and their forms seem almost more complicated and varied than our complex English forms. Our German and Spanish teachers, however, don't just hand you the book and expect you to learn it yourself. No, that isn't the case. They are always there to help you whenever you need them, and in whatever way they can. They also make the class interesting with such things as orals, filmstrips, and various games such as Spanish Password and German Scrabble . . . So remember, a foreign language may seem to be a challenge too difficult to attempt, but with the help of your teachers it can become a very enjoyable and worthwhile experience.

STUDENTS AT WORK

J. Baranowski practices on the adding machine in Business Math.

Business classes are a must for those students planning to work after high school and for those students who plan on going to college. In college these skills will be useful when writing term papers or taking notes.

Since our school has modernized its equipment, everyone gets a chance to try out machinery which may be used later, on the job situation.

With the machinery and wide variety of courses, students will be able to achieve success in the field of business.

E. Hruskocy shows us just how good he can type.

Transcribing notes is a part of S. Simants's day in Shorthand.

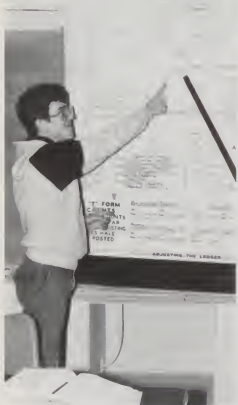

B. Stephens keeps her eye on the page and not the typewriter in Typing.

Using flash cards in Business Math, M. Owens and J. Fraire test their mathematical skills.

ADJUSTING THE LEDGER FOR THE F. O. L. L.

Explaining how a ledger is adjusted is B. Stincic.

C. Johnson shows D. Kovacek how to use the computer in office practice.

"TRADING" PLACES

To insure a perfect fit, T. Shebish sands the wood.

Home Economics and Industrial Arts are very popular courses at Whiting.

In the sewing classes, the students start off with the basics such as making stuffed animals. The advanced students finish the course by making blouses, skirts, or pants.

The cooking students learn measuring techniques and how to follow recipes. They make a variety of food including cakes and cookies for open house.

The Industrial Arts students start with drafting and work their way to wood, metal, and print shop. Woodshop students learn to make picture frames, spice racks, and even kitchen tables.

These trades help enable students to master the problems in everyday life.

Making sure not to stick her finger, L. Guajardo pins down her pattern piece.

As N. Henson models her new glasses, M. Adams shows her how to weld.

K. Clark tries out a new "egg shampoo" on N. Huntley.

Using the lathe in Metal Shop, A. Vasquez finishes his project.

E. Rodriguez and M. Rancich try to decide if their creation is edible or not.

Demonstrating how to use a grinder is C. Van-Meter.

P. Lund helps out by printing the Tattlers.

A HEALTHY BODY: INSIDE AND OUT

On her way to the major leagues is E. Torzewski.

The Physical Ed. department of Whiting has a program for the advanced gym classes. It is the nicklaus technique and aerobics. Although these classes meet only twice a week, the students are improving their coordination and physical condition. Also included in the regular gym classes are: softball, basketball, swimming, weightlifting, running and a few other events. The boys are supervised by Mr. Zubeck and the girls by Mrs. Fritz.

In Health, students learn about how their bodies function and all of the diseases that are in your body. This course is required, as is gym. If you want to learn about your body inside and out, you will find this class fascinating.

E. Fritz emulates his hero Richard Simmons.

G. Piper and R. Valko wonder who has the "guts".

On his way to the Olympics is C. Pope.

M. Fraire and K. Scott prepare for a grueling game of badminton.

This crab-soccer team includes: R. Unate, S. Kleinedler and B. Villalon.

Preparing for the Boston Marathon are M. Aicher and B. Malekar.

THE ART OF MUSIC

Waiting for just the right moment, A. Simmons watches his notes carefully.

While practicing their singing, D. Spanton accompanies L. Linko, J. Klein, M. Fraire and L. Vargas.

D. Evanich puts on the finishing touches to her drawing.

Out of all the classes in Whiting High, two of the most enjoyable are Music and Art. Also, they are both required, so everyone can experience them.

In Music, students learn about various composers of different musical periods, how to read notes, and how to name the keys on the piano. Also related to the music class is a chorus class in which some students participate.

During Art, students learn linecolor texture forms, which are the fundamentals of art. Also, ceramics and advanced art are offered as separate classes. Advanced art offers rug making, crafts, advanced drawing and painting, and soon they will also have stained glass making. Both art and advanced art students make paper maché, wood sculpture, string art, collage and batik. All classes also help make the decorations for the school plays, school functions, and sport banquets.

Working on a decoy for the Polaks is Dave Brown.

IS FASCINATING

While K. Kubaki makes a new mug, J. Copeland creates a new hair style for herself.

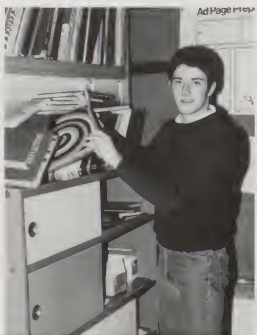

Spinning the records for their class are T. Fritz and D. Evanich.

While mastering the art of rug making, C. Jerzyk stamps her finger.

Showing her expertise in ceramics, C. Bonchik creates a clown.

NHS HELPS COMMUNITY

Initiates express their humor during the informal ceremony.

Being a member of the National Honor Society is something one should be proud of. This year 12 juniors and seniors were chosen as new members. They were chosen on the basis of character, leadership, scholastic achievement, and service to the school. An informal initiation first, put them through a grueling test, and then finally the formal initiation took place and made them "official" N.H.S. members.

Collecting canned goods for the needy before Thanksgiving was one project performed by the N.H.S. this year.

B. Stephens & C. Sarvanidis take their oaths.

D. Kovacek & J. Puente display donated items during the Thanksgiving drive.

STUDENT COUNCIL HOLDS HIGHLY

After a successful blood drive, B. Mateja expresses the thanks of the Student Council.

The Student Council is made up of representatives elected by every homeroom. The members discuss items brought up to them by fellow classmates and ideas for improvement around the school.

The Student Council held their 3rd annual Blood Drive. They collected a school record of 101 pints of blood surpassing their goal by 25%.

The Student Council also sponsors most Homecoming activities. They decide upon the days for spirit week and hold the Homecoming Dance. After two years without it, the council will again sponsor a Homeroom Volleyball Tournament in the spring.

The Student Council is sponsored by Miss Sheline.

REFLECTOR: WORKING HARD AND

Working hard for the ads department are L. Filipek and D. Close.

Storing pictures is just one of the many jobs S. Rokosz has.

J. Filipek shows her typing skills.

While raising money for the Reflector, J. Preneta works on her tan.

GETTING THE JOB DONE

J. Sandrick and B. Justak try to locate a certain picture in the "dummy" book.

Showing that he can crop pictures, B. Filipek puts the finishing touches on his lay out.

Instead of working on her lay out, R. Kantowski daydreams about Jeff.

In order for you to be reading this yearbook, some people had to have worked on it. Starting in the beginning of the school year, the Reflector staff works on the yearbook until school lets out, and if needed, a few days after. The staff is divided in 2 groups—the writers, who write copies, do lay-outs, and crop pictures—and the ads department—who sell advertisements. Also to raise money for the Reflector, they held a car wash last summer. They also sold the NFL Tumblers, which was a huge success.

Reflector staff includes (l-r): J. Preneta, D. Close, J. Filipek, G. Meyers, R. Kantowski, K. Kubacki,

To find out what's going on around good ole' WHS, just pick up an issue of the Tattler. With its new style, the Voice of the Oilers is looking better than ever. Its hard-working staff keeps itself busy everyday, rushing to meet deadlines in order to get the paper out on time. Filled with its various articles such as sports, opinions, personality profiles, features, and different school news, the Tattler provides interesting reading for everyone.

THE SPIRIT OF WHITING HIGH

Varsity cheerleaders (top to bottom): M. Postell, S. Rokosz, B. Mateja, and S. Simants.

The Whiting Cheerleader's role is to boost the morale of the team and the fans. Although the basketball and football teams weren't very successful this year, the cheerleader's spirit still shined through and kept the team in good spirits. This year they held a Tag Day to collect money to purchase new freshman uniforms. The cheerleaders appeared in the annual 4th of July parade. This year however, they entered a float into which they put a lot of hard work to proudly represent Whiting High School. During the summer all three squads practiced cheers getting ready for the football season and preparing for another year of Rah! Rah! Rah!

B-Squad cheerleaders (l-r): K. Hansen, M. Murzyn, and K. Williams.

As it has been in the past, the Spanish Club is still the largest organization at W.H.S. It's size helped quite a lot this year, the club almost disbanded while its sponsor, Mr. Taylor, was in the hospital. The large number of students involved showed enough spirit and provided enough cooperation to keep the club together.

They held the annual Christmas party on Monday, December 20. Although it wasn't the same without Mr. Taylor, they still sung carols and broke the pinata to keep the Christmas spirit.

The members of the club this year, even with the problems, helped to make the club as exciting and popular as it has always been.

Pres.; M. Rowden, Co. Pres.; Mr. Taylor, Sponsor.

This year's German Club or Deutsch Verein consists of six members with Mr. Ulrich as their sponsor. Gummi-Bears and Advent Calenders were this year's successful money-making projects. This money is invested in their yearly trips to Germantown in Chicago. This year they visited the New Harmony German Religious Settlement.

Admiring his new Advent Calender is D. Raycroft.

Organized at the beginning of school history, the club is the school's way of repaying athletes for participation in varsity athletics. A "W" is the dream of every athlete who has ever taken part in a sport. An athlete feels a sense of pride when he or she receives a varsity letter, knowing that not only have they accomplished something for themselves, but also for the school.

HARD WORK, DETERMINATION, = W.H.S. OILERETTES

Oilerettes line up and eagerly await the start of the Homecoming Parade.

Oilerettes were under the new direction of Dawn Spanton and Kathy Kienzl this year. Any dedicated Oilerette can tell you of the many hours of practice they put in to give the Oiler football and basketball fans nothing less than perfection for half-time entertainment. The Oilerettes performed to such popular tunes as "Oh Mickey", the theme from "Flashdance", and Michael Jackson's "P.Y.T.". In rain or shine, these school-spirited girls continued with the rhythm of the band.

Oilerettes show us their perfect timing and coordination while performing at a football game.

A BAND FOR ALL SEASONS

C. Pope shows his talent during the Christmas concert.

Winter, Spring, Summer, and Fall, the band is always busily preparing for their next performance. Whether it be the Christmas or Spring concerts, marching in the fourth of July parade, or playing at basketball games, they're always striving to improve themselves.

This year the band attended the ISSMA State Band Competition for the first time in twenty years. They did very well, outscoring such bands as Lake Central, Chesterton, and Michigan City Rogers.

Whatever the music, whatever the performance, the W.H.S. Band is sure to be a hit.

In the new jazz band, T. Gazda plays his bass guitar.

The percussion section proves too loud for little Ricky!

"THE WAY WE WERE" ENDS ERA.

The male chorus tells everyone to "Put On A Happy Face".

The town gossips are appalled to hear that there is a mouse in the house.

Singing in the finale is the entire cast of "The Way We Were".

This year's theatrical presentation entitled "The Way We Were" was a tribute to over 70 years of play productions at W.H.S. Due to the renovation of both the school and the auditorium, it was the last time the existing auditorium would be used. The production consisted of 6 representative cuttings from past plays. They were "Our Town", "Bye, Bye, Birdie", "I Was A Teenage Dracula",

"Guys and Dolls", "Mouse Trap", and "Annie Get Your Gun". Also as a tribute to Ethel Merman, the entire cast sung for their finale, "There's No Business Like Show Business". Seven directors from past performances were present to make the evening complete. Five upperclassmen received honors for their participation in past plays directed by Miss Sharon Wozniak.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

On December 15, 1983, Whiting High School put on their rendition of the Charles Dickens classic "A Christmas Carol." This classic portrays a miserly old man who is visited by three spirits in an attempt to reform the old man into a warm-hearted caring citizen. The reading chorus composed of twelve people, helped the audience to digest the play while the narrator helped the audience understand exactly where the scenes were taking place. After the performance, the Drama class served refreshments in the study hall. This production was directed by Sharon A. Wozniak assisted by Jennifer Hart, Tim O'Keefe, Suzie Otic, Kris Saksa, and Anna Westerfield.

The F.E.A. has been fairly active this year. They acted as guides for parents at the Open House. They also sold candy grams for Valentine's Day, and they plan to do other fund raisers before the end of the year. The Future Educator's of America gives the student body a chance to broaden their interests.

CROSS COUNTRY RUNS UP SOME RECORDS

Showing All-Conference form, A. Vasquez paces himself to finish 1st.

This year's Cross Country Season proved both successful and exciting. The successful role was accomplished by the team finishing the season with the 2nd best record in Whiting School history, and also taking 2nd place in the New Prairie Invitational. Also highlighting the season were Curtis Anderson, who took 3rd in the Conference & 3rd in the Sectionals, and Audie Vasquez who took 5th in the Conference and 8th in the Sectionals. Whiting also qualified for the Regionals, in which they placed 9th.

Conference 0-7

Despite a no win season, our tennis team had gained much experience on the courts. They also struggled through long practices and early mornings. The team, consisting of three returning lettermen and four new recruits had, however, a lot of fun. They also had "guts" and had shown terrific school spirit. The lack of returning players resulted in a tough struggle for the young team.

OILERS EXPERIENCE CHARACTER-

It was a rough season for the Oilers this year, due mainly to a lack of varsity experience. Of the returning players only four had been regular starters, Ed Hruskocy, Jeff Chorba, Dave Brown, and Mike Senics. The players themselves worked harder than they ever had before, but the unfortunate 0-9 record failed to show all the effort, pride, and determination displayed by the team on and off the field throughout the season.

This year's season was almost entirely different from the past few years. The Oilers joined the conference for the first time in nearly a decade and also took part in the new cluster format which provided for several long bus rides. Another change was the early start of the season which caused some problems with the heat. Of course, the greatest change was that of the coaching staff. Coach Nick's shoes were hard to fill but new head coach Al Holok did a commendable job.

New players together with old ones were ready to tackle anything, even the more difficult practices that came their way. Under the reins of new head coach, Mark Harangody, they finished the rough season winless.

NARROW DEFEATS

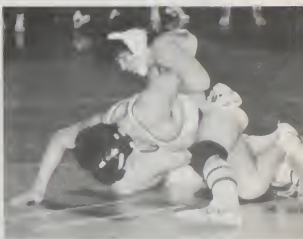

This year's wrestling team fared well individually, but as a team they suffered many close losses. Individually, Steve Jancho, Bruce Bailey, and Dave Brown took first in the Sectionals. Those three, along with Jesse Flores and Chris Sarvanidis, advanced to the Regionals. Bruce Bailey then went on to semi-state. As a team, the Oilers finished 4-7 and placed 5th in the Conference. The climax of the season was the team's heart-breaking Sectional loss. The wrestlers took second, only one point short of first, 148 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 147 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Competition, teamwork, and pride are all a part of being a basketball team member.

Lack of varsity experience spelled defeat for the Oilers. The boys varsity basketball team finished their season with an unfortunate record of 2-19. Despite this record, the players refused to let themselves get down, always playing with intensity and giving 100%.

This year's team, containing only three seniors, gave an abundance of playing time to underclassmen. Hopefully this valuable experience will give the team what it needs to be a competitor next year.

Coach Vrabel stressed the need for teamwork and the spirit to win in order for his team to be a successful one. Although their record was only 6-13, the team played well, and most of the games

The Junior Varsity season was again very successful. There were many new players, but the few veterans from last year helped them through any difficulties that they may have encountered.

Thinking about the season, crucial games come to mind, most importantly, the Junior Varsity Tournament. Although they didn't get the trophy, they surely put up a fight!

Despite this year's conference record of 3-4, the season ended fairly successful. The varsity team finished their season with a record of 15-10.

The girls started off the Sectionals with a victory against Hammond High and they returned to play Clark in the Semi-final round. This match was the "thriller" of the Sectional. The see-saw affair was definitely worth the price of admission. The Oilers won the first game 15-9. They lost the second exhausting game 19-21 and eventually fell to the Pioneers in the third. Both teams ended the night totally drained.

This year Tina Butler, Renee Kantowski, and Becky Mateja were selected to the All-Conference team.

With a veteran team returning, the Lady Oilers had to prove to the rest of the Calumet Region that they could play quality basketball. They did just that, winning 9 of their first 10 games and 8 of their last 9—losing to eventual sectional champion E.C. Roosevelt. The Oilers finished second in the Conference being nudged out again by their old nemesis E.C. Roosevelt. Season highlights include two wins over rival Clark, and heartstopping victories over highly regarded Gavitt and Gary Roosevelt. Becky Mateja and Sheri Ulm made the

TAKE ME TO

This is Mrs. Banik's last year at WHS.

They come here tirelessly day after day, keeping Whiting High the smooth-running school it is. Who are these people? Why they are the administrators and office personnel of course. The administration at Whiting offers guidance and support to all students. Mr. Kountoures's door is always open, and counselors Mr. Daniels and Miss Sheline are ever willing to help students with problems both in and out of school. A full-time attendance officer was added this year. This position is filled by Mr. Al Holak.

Mr. Novak, the superintendent along with the school board help decide upon the school's policies from year to year. Last but not least, are the General Office and Administrative secretaries, without them nothing would be filed, typed, or organized. We would like to extend our best wishes to Mrs. Banik who is leaving WHS after 13 years of dedicated service.

Mrs. Marie Dado, Mrs. Pat Kantowski, and Mrs. Dorothy Shaner are the Administrative secretaries.

The General Office Secretaries are Mrs. Darla Carroll, Mrs. Irene Banik, and Mrs. Elanor Mustafa.

THEY'RE ALL A PERFECT "10"!

These Top Ten students will be representing the class of 1984. Having been selected on the basis of their scholastic standing, each of them has learned the meaning of taking tests, studying, memorizing, taking notes, and cramming for exams. Having done this throughout high school will further prepare them for their future endeavors. Each of them will go their separate ways

Tim Gazda: Valed.

whether it be to attend college, go to work, or enter a business or trade school. Staying in the top ten through high school required hard work for these students because of all the extra time and effort that had to be devoted to maintain their high standings. Though at times it became very competitive among the students, they have all given it their very best.

Diane Kovacek: Salut.

FACULTY SURPRISES STUDENTS

This year's homeroom volleyball tournament was won by Mrs. DePeugh's class. The games were held on May 15th and 16th in the boy's gym. In the championship game the sophomores defeated Mr. Ulrich's junior class winning it in two quick games. The next day, the sophomores challenged the teachers at the assembly, but were showed up. The teachers played as a team and defeated the sophomores taking them three close, competitive games. Working together all of the homerooms put up a good fight and had fun doing it.

Winning the homeroom volleyball tournament was Mrs. DePeugh's sophomore class.

Disgusted "Slamma Jamma" member, E. Hruskoy soon learns that Mr. Ulrich's class is for real.

D. Dollins finds that defeat can be sweet.

Secret weapon, Mr. Kountoures—the real reason why the Russians didn't come to the Olympics.

Using his patented serve in the championship game is B. Taylor.

Mr. Vrabel proves with his awesome spike that the teachers mean business.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

R. Kantowski, T. Butler, and B. Mateja were All Conference for volleyball.

To be an athlete at Whiting, one must be willing to put in a lot of hard work to be the best. Because of the size of our school, more pressure is exerted on each member of a team to make that team successful. Many individuals worked overtime in order to fill their year with victories. We thank you for your dedication, leadership, and hard work.

B. Mateja and J. Chorba were the winners of the Adult Booster Club Scholarships and R. Kantowski received the Walter Heyden Award.

A. Vasquez and C. Anderson were All Conference for cross country.

JUST FOR

With every sport, there are stats to be taken. Matmaids attend every meet and keep tabs on each wrestler. Stats for basketball are the same for both the boys and the girls. Shots, assists, and rebounds are recorded. Volleyball stats consist of bumps, sets, spikes, and serves; while baseball and softball focus on wins, hits, and errors.

All the statisticians are important assets to the coaches.

Boys Basketball stats include (front, l-r): L. Guajardo, K. Kubacki, (back): R. Kantowski, E. Rodriguez, C. Johnson.

Matmaids include (sitting, l-r): E. Rodriguez, M. Tobias, N. Huntley, S. Otis, D. Miles, J. Preneta, K. Clark, (standing): J. Hart, A. Hanis, D. Dobrowolski, N. Young, G. Myers.

D. Miles enjoys filming the wrestling meets.

Girls Basketball stats include (sitting, l-r): T. Evanich, D. Close, B. Justak, (standing): J. Sandrick, E. Hruskocy, B. Filipek.

THE RECORD

The stat girls bribe the photographer to take their picture.

Volleyball stats include (front, l-r): D. Close, C. O'Brien, (back): J. Sandrick, D. Dollins, B. Filippek.

E. Hruskocy and K. Kubacki take softball and Baseball stats.

D. Close and E. Hruskocy are hard at work.

A LITTLE HELP FROM YOUR FRIENDS

Teachers aids include: (1st row l-r) M. Aicher, T. Boswell, J. Preneta, (2nd row) F. Rooke, C. Pope, J. Flores, C. Sarvanidis.

Library assistants: (1st row l-r) A. Westerfield, D. Tinsley, A. McHale, G. Cabrera, D. Brown, T.

Butler, R. Kantowski, S. Witezak.

T. Butler files the library cards and carefully alphabetizes them.

Sneaking a "Snickers" is B. Stincic.

Concession workers include: (1st row l-r) P. Stincic, J. Livingston, B. Stincic, (2nd row) K. Kuss, C. Waters, Sponsor, Mr. Sorota.

T. Evanich stands "hamming it up" while collecting the attendance slips.

Sorting out the mail for the teachers is L. Kindel.

Every hour of the school day there are students running errands for teachers and personnel. These people are none other than the monitors, making life at school a little easier. They are also in charge of collecting slips and filling out attendance sheets. Also giving their valuable time to better serve the student body are the concession workers. They work at basketball and football games throughout the year. Library assistants help students with articles, locating books, preparing term papers, and checking out library material.

DEFENSE

Flower-making parties, decorating floats, buying corsages, selecting attendants, painting signs: these were all a part of Homecoming 1983. Who could forget the last minute band rehearsals, getting floats ready, and taping the football players' houses until 4 in the morning. October 10 marked the opening of spirit week as students displayed their wildest clothes and became mixed & matched, cowboys and indians, and punk rockers. Monday brought Hat and Jersey Day, Tuesday, the very popular Rock Era Day, Wednesday, Mix & Match, Thursday, Cowboy and Indian Day, and Friday the traditional Green and White Day.

The float was won by the Juniors with their motto "Execute the Trojans." "Blow 'Em Out" won the spirit car for the Seniors and the spirit stick was awarded to the Sophomore class for their hard work and spirit throughout the week.

Fans eagerly awaited the highlight of the game, the announcement of Melody Postell as Queen and Mike Senics as Mr. Football. Saturday brought the Homecoming Dance as couples spent an evening together with thoughts of "Never Gonna Let You Go."

SECTIONAL FEVER

The senior attendants were Sectional Sweetheart L. Raycroft and K.G. Kompier; Sue Simants and Mike Senics; and E. Rodriguez and Rich Kienzl.

S. Witzak and C. Jerzyk do last minute decorating for the dance.

Showing how to have a good time are these junior girls.

Break dancing is the new fad and M. Postell shows how to do it.

HITS WHITING

Class attendants and escorts were: B. Justak and M. Grenchik; J. Sandrick and L. Filipek; Vince Villalon and J. Klein.

On February 24 during the halftime of the Lowell basketball game, students anxiously awaited the announcement of Sectional Sweetheart and Mr. Basketball. The honors went to Loretta Raycroft and Jeff Chorba. Following this the Oilerettes and the cheerleaders performed their halftime show to Michael Jackson's "Don't Stop 'Till You Get Enough." The next day, students rushed around picking up corsages and making restaurant reservations for the dance taking place that night. Couples danced the night away to the music of disc jockey, L. and L. Mobil. The theme of the dance, which was sponsored by the Booster Club, was "We've Got Tonight."

Providing the half-time entertainment, the cheerleaders and the Oilerettes perform to perfection.

This year's Sectional Sweetheart and Mr. Basketball are L. Raycroft and J. Chorba.

PROM COUPLES SHARE ALL OF THEIR LOVE

L. Raycroft and K. Kompier take a picture overlooking the pool area.

This year the prom was held at the Holiday Star in Merrillville on May 4th. "All of My Love" was chosen as the theme. The couples were allowed to browse around freely which made the night more enjoyable. The pool area provided a scenic site for picture taking. Some people even slipped into the arcade for a quick game of Pac-Man!

Picture taking was first on the agenda followed by dinner. Then, students danced the night away to the music of Abbey Road. The juniors provided a free coke bar for the thirsty dancers and all who wanted it. They also provided many prom favors such as: glasses, napkins, booklets, coasters, and ribbons for the couples.

The tradition of prom king and queen was brought back this year. Jeff Huckabee and Kelley Kubacki received the awards.

A nice evening with no rain added the final touch for a beautiful prom.

The future models for GQ Magazine?

K. Kubacki and M. Senics dance the night away.

N. Henson and J. Huckabee show their moves on the dance floor.

C. Jerzyk and D. Brown enjoyed each other's company.

M. Opachan, L. Jones, M. Tobias, and J. Toth smile pretty for the camera.

K. Linko and S. Cutka find a quiet moment alone before dinner.

J. Chorba and R. Kantowski pose for the traditional pictures before leaving for the prom.

The senior girls get together for one last prom picture.

Take a Good,
Hard Look at Tomorrow,
Today!

Because tomorrow is just around the corner, and your future will depend a lot on the decisions you make today.

Your career goal is probably the single most important decision you'll make, so consider it carefully. Consider your interests and skills, and then consider working for a company that will allow you the opportunity to develop and use them effectively.

At Inland Steel we like to bring out the best in people. We do it through training programs, and by offering growth potential. We need solid employees on the production lines, in the craft apprenticeships, in our laboratories, and in the offices.

We've built a strong reputation as a first-rate steelmaker, and we built it with the help of our employees. But we don't rest on past laurels. Like you, we're looking at tomorrow.

TODAY WE FOLLOW:

Today we pass through the halls of W.H.S. and are just one of the many students. We are encouraged and aided by teachers who devote their time to help us whenever we need them. We follow in the footsteps of our leaders and are familiar with the way of life at Whiting High. Tomorrow is not far from us. Who knows what the future may bring. Times will change, we'll meet new people see new faces, and experience good and bad times. During the course of the year we have all experienced new happenings and events; some happy some sad. In later years we can reflect on these incidents of the past and remember. But we will always look ahead with high hopes of REACHING TOWARD THE FUTURE.

TOMORROW WE LEAD

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Hoping to convince you to buy a yearbook is J. Preneta.

The hard work that goes into a yearbook is many times, overshadowed by lighter moments filled with ... flying erasers ... "Now come on you guys, I mean it" ... If we don't get this done ... nights after school ... Bob and Brett playing chess ... filling out 400 index cards ... where are the final layout sheets? ... broken typewriters ... We're out of type sheets ... all organizations need tool lines ... Did you write your copy yet? ... Who stole my pictures? I left them right here ... I have to have my layout done by today?! ... Who's got the cropper? ... I need a red pen ... Tommy, get back in Tattler ... Bob, get the coffee brewing Now, now! ... Donna, how many ads pages can you give us? ... Did the pictures come in? ... When's our next deadline? ... Wake up and smell the coffee ... "I quit!"

Reflector members are literally all wet.

Trying to meet the final deadline, S. Rokosz frantically makes last minute touch-ups on layouts.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems in the UK is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems in the workplace. The Mental Health Foundation (2000) states that 'the workplace is a key environment for the promotion of mental health and the prevention of mental health problems'. The Department of Health (2000) states that 'the workplace is a key environment for the promotion of mental health and the prevention of mental health problems'.
